

22 Million Families in the United States

4 CUPS OF WHEAT FLOUR TO THE POUND

If each family used 4 cups of flour less per week, the saving would be 22 million pounds or 112,244 barrels every week.

The greatest help housekeepers can give to win the war is to make this saving and it can be done by using this recipe in place of white flour bread.

Corn Meal Biscuits

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup scalded milk
1 cup corn meal
2 tablespoons shortening
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
1 cup white flour
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder

Save $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of the measured flour for board. Pour milk over corn meal, add shortening and salt. When cold, add sifted flour and baking powder. Roll out lightly on floured board. Cut with biscuit cutter and bake in greased pan fifteen to twenty minutes.

FOOD WILL WIN THE WAR

PRICE OF COAL HAS BEEN CUT AND PEOPLE ARE URGED TO BEGIN TO STORE FOR WINTER

Acting purely from patriotic motives and from a desire to voluntarily assist the fuel administration, according to D. H. Pape, manager of the Lion Coal company, the price of Wyoming coals handled by that company has been placed at a par with the price of Utah coals, in order that people may store coal now to avert a possible repetition of last winter's shortage. Wyoming coals are now purchased at $3.30 a ton at the mine mouth for the lump grade, the other grades having received corresponding decreases. This is 45 cents cheaper than the price fixed for the Wyoming coal by the government, so the company is voluntarily making the reduction.

Utah and Wyoming coal is now selling on the local markets at $7.10 per ton for the lump grade, a price lower than it has been sold at for several months. This includes delivery.

By federal regulation, the maximum price for Wyoming coal was fixed at $7.15 at the mine and the companies operating there would have the right to charge this price. According to Mr. Pape, the immediate future for the operators of this territory is uncertain as there is a possibility of the zone system becoming effective and in that case the product of the mines would be distributed without regard to territory built up by the company.

In commenting on the reduction of price for the Wyoming coal, Mr. Pape said:

"This change has been made for the sole purpose of allowing people to store coal for the winter while they have a good chance. Wyoming coal may now be purchased for the same price as Utah coal, and this ought to prove a great incentive toward purchasing considerable quantities and holding for winter. If conditions such as obtained last winter are to be averted, early preparation is essential."

NORTH OGDEN NOTES

NORTH OGDEN, March 21—Charles Edward Berrett, a former resident of this place, but for a number of years residing at Ucon, Idaho, died at that place last Sunday afternoon after a long illness of valvular disease of the heart. The funeral services were held there yesterday afternoon. Two brothers, Arthur G. and Edmund R. and four sisters, Mrs. Rhoda Jones, Mrs. John W. Gibson, Mrs. William M. Ellis of this place, and Mrs. Harriet Spackman of Ogden, were in attendance at the services.

He was born here to Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Berrett, August 3, 1858, and was therefore in his 59th year at the time of his death; was baptized July 22, 1877, by F. C. Clifford and confirmed three days later by Cyrus H. Wheelock, and May 4, 1881, at the organization of the First Primary association in the ward, became its first secretary; was ordained a priest January 26, 1883, an elder March 1, 1893, and was married March 8, 1893, in the Logan temple to Elizabeth Foll, was ordained a seventy March 31, 1893, by Seymour B. Young of the First Council of Seventy and May 20, 1895, was transferred to the place of his death.

He is survived by a wife and children at Ucon, Idaho, a mother, Mrs. Sarah Ann Berrett, nearly 83 years old, a sister, Mrs. William Spackman, also in Ogden, and four sisters and two brothers residing in North Ogden.

Two more of our boys, Hyrum E. Reynolds and Joseph K. Montgomery, have been added this week to our already fair quota of soldier boys departing Monday evening for Fort Logan, Colo., to report for training. They had already enlisted in the coast artillery.

The Relief society annual day in North Ogden was a decided success as a reward for the diligent effort put forth to that end by the local officers. The solo and chorus work contributed by members of the Ogden Seventh ward added greatly to the interests and was highly appreciated.

Charles E. Orton, who sustained quite severe injuries by being thrown from a wagon while loading at the gravel pit some time ago, is slowly recovering. The loading place was a steep one and the team became frightened when the seat fell from the wagon on them, starting them in a wild run down the hill, throwing the driver onto the rocks.

The sacrament meeting next Sunday evening will be held in connection with the mutuals and the officers have sought to inject matters of special interest in the program, with the theme, "Love of Mountain Home," running through the services, including a lecture on the subject by President John W. Gibson and missionary experiences by Elder William A. Linford, than whom no one else can just now more fully appreciate "Our Mountain Home So Dear" having recently returned from a two years' absence doing missionary work in the war zone.

Samuel Shaw, president of the local farm bureau is zealously urging the farmers to sign up contracts for beet growing that the companies may not conclude too early that all had entered into contract that desired to do so and the seed supply shifted to other sections.

Miss Ludwig was present conferring yesterday with the ladies of the place on the organization of a ladies' farm bureau and the work was practically consummated.

A committee is at work laying much needed sidewalks about the church building and then we will have completed practically every detail of modern conveniences that any ward of the same size can lay claim to, the entire

CROP PEST INSPECTOR SERVES NOTICE ON DELINQUENTS

After spending a month agitating the necessity of all orchards being sprayed with lime-sulphur this year, C. E. Pettigrew, county crop pest inspector, reports that satisfactory results are being obtained.

From present prospects, the fruit crop this year will be excellent and it is up to the orchardists to take ample measures to protect themselves against the ravages of injurious insect pests. One of the most advisable means of production is the dormant spray of lime-sulphur properly applied, which kills the dormant insects which it touches, the eggs of many insects which have been laid, and is very effective in controlling the spread of peach twig borer which caused extensive damage in this county last year to marketable peaches.

The good prices of the past season were due to a shortage of fruit in many sections of the country, and if the growers desire a good price for their product this year, they must take steps to produce an article which will command this price by merit.

The majority of the growers realize the importance of this work and have made preparations to carry out thoroughly the instructions which have been given. In some cases, however, parties are of the opinion that if they refuse to spray or forget to spray, that everything will be alright. Mr. Pettigrew desires to inform people of this frame of mind that Weber county will be cleaned up of scale this year, no matter what measures are necessary, and at the present time he is preparing notices to serve upon delinquents in this line, notifying them to spray or cut down their trees within a specified time, if they wish to escape prosecution.

JULIAN ELTINGE MAKES A TREMENDOUS HIT AT THE ALHAMBRA

Eltinge, the man and the lady, puts over one of the biggest hits he has ever achieved in "The Widow's Might." Eltinge presents the unusual in photography, so different from the regular line of photoplay production. The comedy is the kind that carries interest and unveils most laughable situations. When this male in lady's attire does such clever detective work, he sure is a charming, fascinating lady, and every movement you will notice is put on with such grace and carries the feminine touch throughout. See him tonight for the last time. Added to this excellent Artcraft is a journey through the Panama canal, a most instructive film that is thoroughly enjoyable.

MAYOR TO OFFICIALLY OPEN THE AUTO SHOW

The Ogden Automobile show will be officially opened next Monday evening by Mayor T. Samuel Browning. The mayor has consented to give the opening address, according to an announcement of the show management. Mayor Browning will be accompanied by Commissioners Chris Flygare and Miles L. Jones on the opening night and the board will officially represent Ogden City.

The carpenters and decorators who have been working at the show room in the De-Dees building have nearly completed their work and the room will be in complete readiness to receive the exhibits by the end of the week. The decorating has been under the supervision of J. V. Keeler and has been carried out in patriotic colors, with streamers with the Beehive state seal and American flags and bunting. The booths are all divided with neat lattice work partitions, painted in colors appropriate to spring, and the whole makes an attractive appearance.

OUTRAGEOUS LIE HAS BEEN CIRCULATED ON RED CROSS

The latest Red Cross story is a rare work of genius. It is as follows:

An Ogden woman knit a sweater for her son and pinned a $5 bill in the sleeve. She then gave it to the Red Cross to send and thought how her boy would enjoy the sweater and have a good time with the $5. A week later she was in a dry goods store and seeing a young girl wearing a sweater that looked like her own, she went up to the girl and examined it. She found that it was her sweater and compelled the girl to take it off and sure enough the $5 was still pinned in the sleeve.

No one is willing to be responsible for the story. It is circulated as hearsay. The Red Cross people are trying to find who started it and say they will prosecute the originator of the lie, if they can find who is guilty. If any of the Standard readers have heard the story, they will aid in the cause by telling the office who told them. It is the work of a disloyal falsifier and the person should be discovered.

When Ogden boys are facing death at the front, it seems the deepest treachery for any Ogden man or woman to try and make the boys work harder by circulating lies to detract from the willing hands that are working here to provide necessities and comforts for the men at the front.

So far the story points to a night cook in one of the restaurants.

MEN ARE WANTED IN ARMY MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

The medical department of the army is considered one of the best branches of the service, especially for those who are adapted in that line. It is a special corps whose members must be men of special qualifications and training.

The duties consist principally of nursing and taking care of the sick and wounded. They are usually stationed at post, general, and field hospitals, and in time of actual warfare are stationed in the rear of the firing line. The training received is most valuable in pharmacy and nursing and after completion of an enlistment in this particular branch a man should be well equipped to return to civil life with an enhanced earning capacity, proving he takes advantage of the opportunities offered.

The medical department needs a great many skilled men of all kinds. Think of the great number of automobile trucks and ambulances needed in France. Men are required to know how to run and repair these machines. Cooks are needed by the thousands. Supplies are transported in rough country by wagons. Teamsters, wagon masters, farriers, are very much in demand. Machinists and mechanics of all kinds. Any bright intelligent man who has had a common school education will be accepted. This branch of the service offers special inducements to clerks of all kinds—stenographers, typists, storekeepers.

The pay is $30 per month for a private and a much higher rate for non-commissioned officers. There is plenty of chance for men who take an interest in the service to be promoted. The government furnishes free, food, clothing, medical treatment, gymnasium and library privileges.

Married men may enlist in the service the same as single men. The dependents are amply provided for by the allotment and insurance law.

DRAFTERS ARE TO BE GIVEN DENTAL WORK

During the past two days the dentists of Utah have practically rallied to the call, and as members of the Preparedness League of American Dentists have arranged to give free dental service to the men who are drafted into the military service. It is planned to make every drafted man dental fit for service before leaving for the training camps and

LENROOT SURE OF ELECTION

Meets Committee and Plans for Coming Senatorial Wisconsin Election.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 21.—Congressman Irvine L. Lenroot plans to consult with members of the Republican state central committee on plans for the forthcoming special senatorial election.

With the vote complete in twenty-two counties and practically complete from others, Lenroot today had a lead of 236 over James Thompson, the LaFollette candidate.

The state central committee will proceed on the assumption of Lenroot's election, as they believe that there is not one chance in a hundred that the official returns will change the result.

Joseph E. Davies is here and as the election takes place April 2, less than two weeks hence, both Davies, the Democratic nominee, and Lenroot are wasting no time in getting into action.

FAMOUS FRENCH AVIATORS MISSING

PARIS, Wednesday, March 20.—Second Lieutenant Prince de Tonnay-Charente, one of the most promising young French aviators, is missing. He has brought down seven German machines.

GREAT QUANTITIES OF USED CLOTHING IS RECEIVED

The Red Cross used-clothing headquarters at 2368 Washington avenue, is a scene of much activity today. The quantity of good, serviceable garments for children and adults that is being received is very gratifying to those in charge of the work. There are doubtless large quantities of unused clothing in the homes of Weber county citizens. There is sufficient to warrant the hopes that the parcels have just commenced to arrive at the used clothing depot. It is hoped that the gifts will continue throughout the entire week.

Those who visited the Red Cross collection rooms in the Herald-Republican building, Salt Lake, yesterday report that Ogden is either more generous than the sister city or else there are more in our city who are expecting to purchase new garments, for the amount of the gifts in the local supply depot is in excess of that down there.

Ogdenites are asked to remember that sheets, pillow cases and quilts are quite as acceptable as clothing. These are badly needed in all the refugee homes.

The packing committee commenced its work today and, from the way the garments are arriving, the packers will have a task that will entitle them to be called servants of the common cause.

By the way, have you carried your package to 2368 Washington avenue? There are but two more days and it behooves you to get busy at once.

PLANNING WORLD WORKERS' POLICY

LONDON, Wednesday, March 20.—The first step in carrying out the plans for an international working class policy, Camille Huysmans, secretary of the Socialist Internationale, announced today, would be to give a clear statement on inter-allied policy to American workers and to show them that the policy is essentially in harmony with that of President Wilson. In the meantime the inter-allied Socialist memorandum on war aims will be forwarded to German, Austrian and Bulgarian Socialists through Socialist parties in neutral countries.

HUN PROPAGANDA IN FINLAND

Harvard Professor Tells of German Activities Among Finns for Years.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Germany did what it could to bring about a revolution in Finland years before the present year's world war, according to Professor William H. Schofield of Harvard university, who described the Kaiser and his methods in an address here last night. Professor Schofield was an exchange professor at Berlin eleven years ago and was enabled to make an intimate study of Germany.

"I recall Professor Euckert, professor of idealistic philosophy, who was doing things which no honest man would do," said Professor Schofield. "I remember he sat at my dinner in Germany when he was teaching at Jena. I asked him if he had many students there and he said: 'Not so many Germans. It is a small place, but we have a great deal to do with the Finns.'"

"Finns," said I, 'studying idealistic philosophy at Jena?' "Yes," he said, 'they are now.' "Of course," he said, 'they are not studying philosophy alone. I am helping them in their plans for the freedom of Finland.'"

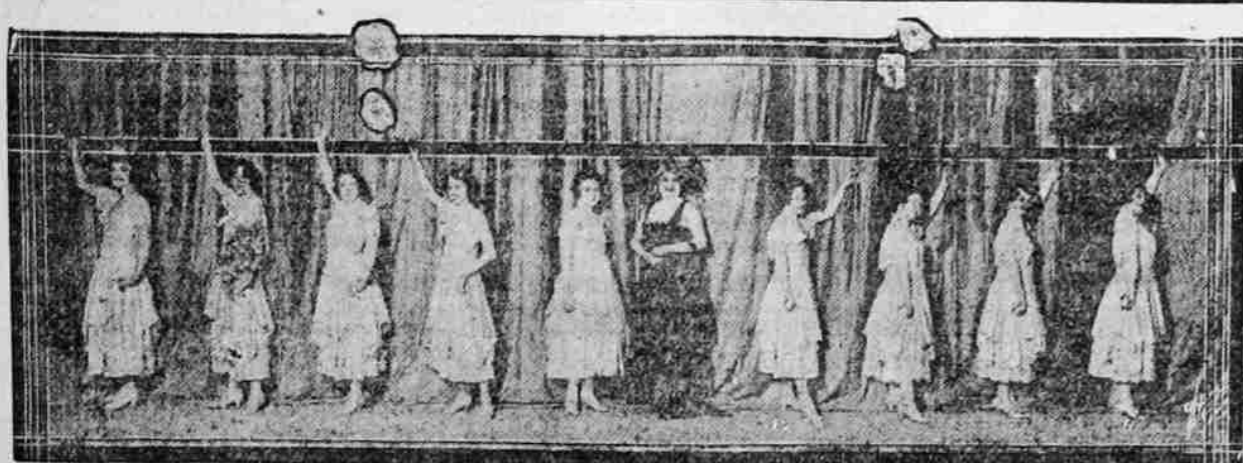

"I said, 'does your government know about this?' "He looked at me as if I were a child in the cradle and said: 'Of course they know about it, but it is so much easier in Jena because it is only a small place.'"

"Now they have been carrying on that propaganda, bringing it up under the guise of idealistic philosophy and also patting you on the back and making you feel that you are the most wonderful person in the world and your country the most important until they get you at their mercy."

"Doug" Fairbanks in "Wild and Woolly," will be shown again today, last time. Also "Broncho Billy" in a picture at the Cozy theatre today. Harry Carey in "The Phantom Riders," tomorrow and Saturday.

Good Pantages Bill Opens TONIGHT

Some of the Winsome Girls who appear all this week in "The Bride Shop," which opens this afternoon at the Orpheum.

The headliner of the new bill opening at the Orpheum this afternoon and continuing through the week, might be called "Fashion's Revue." It has been some time since Pantages has gathered together so much attractiveness as will be seen in "The Bride Shop." Gorgeous costumes, clever dancing, beautiful scenery and catchy songs go to make up the act.

The next offering will be Jack Kennedy & Company in the latest Willard Mack comedy, "Don't Do It." Ogden people know Mack so well that it is useless to tell of the brightness of his sketches.

Rodriguez, a king of performers on the wire, is also promised. Flo and Ollie Walters in "A Bit of Daintiness," is the next offering. Then follows Tom Kelley, who is too well known to theatergoers to need any introduction and Mutt and Jeff in a new laughing comedy completes the excellent bill.
